Federals Propose General Pool of Players to Strengthen Weaker Clubs.

Chicago, 111., January 22 .- Outlaw and organized baseball considered war measures here to-day. The Federal League, with a general outline of its plan already drawn up, laid hold of every legal weapon obtainable to fight against the Philadelphia Nationals' signing William Killifer. The American Association, holding an annual meeting to select a schedule committee and take up other routine business, considered radical changes to be used in the baseball war.

Leaders of the association were reported to have discussed a plan to strengthen the Kansas City and Indianapolis teams, in whose fields the Federals will have clubs. A general pool of players was proposed to give every team a chance to better its line-up. plan already drawn up, laid hold of

RYAN LEAVES TO-DAY.

Raymond Ryan will leave us to-day for the nonce. He contemplates a return to the city where now wages the flery conflict betwixt Garrold Herrmann and a certain clan ironically dubbed "outlawsy" more popularly and charitably known as Federal Leaguers. Having finished all preliminary arrangements pending his arrival as a fixture some time near the ides of March, Manager Ryan will journey to Cincinnati. There is nothing to do now at baseball headquarters except to answer calls for advance money, and Ryan is manager, not treasurer, of the club. and Ryan is manager, not treasurer, of the club.

> STACKPOLE RECOMMENDS SHORTSTOP. Just before piling high his portmanteau, Ray conned a letter written by a former Colt heaver, Ernest Stackpole, who performed the marvelous feat of winning every game he pitched in 1910, in which Stack recommends a phenom by the name of Hammond, a shortstop, who lives in Amsterdam, N. Y. Hammond is a wonder, says Stackpole, and sure to set the Virginia League on fire. Headquarters decided to gamble the price of a car ticket on Stackpole's sayso, and Hammond will report, together with the other fieldglings.

> > COLLEGE WANTS GAME.

William and Mary College wants an exhibition date with the Colts. If there is room, the Williamsburg school will be accommodated.

In parting, Manager Ryan opined that his selections looked pretty good, and that, barring unforseen contingencies, he thought that he would have a chance along with the other five clubs in the league, which is modestly,

AS TO JUMPING BALL PLAYERS.

The defi has gone forth. Jumping ball players will not be permanently disbarred from the ranks of the regulars unless they fail to report to spring training camps by April 10. So says Chairman Herrmann, of the national shown up, the date will be advanced a few weeks. There's nothing like being in demand in the good old game of baseball.

Where is the good ball player who was blacklisted?

JUST A LOT OF BUNK.

There is not a ball player who has jumped to the Feds or who has even threatened to jump, of any heft, but will be received gladly and with warm embraces back in the ranks of the organized forces, regardless of when he puts in his appearance. It's sheer bunk, this thing of blacklisting men While Coach Thompson is not expected on the hill before the middle of February, Assistant Coach Robertson is giving the battery men a daily

The magnates have no one to blame but themselves. The handwriting has been on the wall for many moons, yet there was none who would read it. The owners have spilled the philanthropic stuff until it palls on the public appetite. They have been in the game as they would have been in any other business—to make money—and now the players are willing to take a chance at plucking even the goose that lays the golden eggs if they can get a bit of the gold in the plucking.

The Feds, as we have remarked before, may prove the veriest flivver; they may or may not start a ball game, but they have managed to help the players materially, and for this, if for nothing more, they should receive the thanks of the fraternity of toilers. It may be another case of "wolf, wolf, when there is no wolf," but it has been rather effective in bringing the mag-

Count that day lost whose low descending sun Finds no new fall guy for the Federals' "mun."

With North Carolina Agricultural and Mechancical and the University of North Carolina cut from its schedule, Georgetown University comes very nearly cutting away from the South in football. Virginia threw down the gauntlet, thus taking three of the representative schools of this section away from the Washingtonians. Washington and Lee will play Georgetown here, Perby 144 133 160 437 but aside from this the Hilltoppers have cut the hauser.
